

Seminar

“New chances in education For youngsters and adults”

“New chances for education:
New skills for new jobs”
19-9-2011

How can VET-providers in the UK and the Netherlands stimulate vulnerable adults to join education in order to participate in society and on the labour market? How can we learn from each other? In co-operation with the English Association of Colleges (AOC) the MBO Raad started the European project NANSSI: New Approaches and New Skills for Social Inclusion. Participants of this project will be inspired, exchange experiences and initiate new forms of education, which can stimulate participation on the labour market and in society.
